

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

PRESS STATEMENT ON FAKE JOBS RECRUITMENT ON SOCIAL MEDIA

The Public Service Commission dissociates itself from an ongoing jobs recruitment exercise whose advert is currently circulating on social media purporting to be from the Commission.

According to the advert, conditional offers for jobs will be made available to applicants upon payment of a non refundable fee. We wish to caution Kenyans against falling into the trap of unscrupulous people who have devised this scheme with the sole intention to con them.

Already, the Commission has received complaints of Kenyans who have been duped with the promise of what are clearly non-existent jobs. The Public Service Commission does not require applicants to pay money through mobile platforms or any other methods in order to be considered for the job opportunities that we advertise.

All our job advertisements are published in mainstream media and on the Commission website www.publicservice.go.ke bearing clear features and contacts of the Commission.

The Commission wishes to advise those seeking Public Service jobs to always check our website to confirm the validity of the adverts before engaging further.

We once again reiterate that the said recruitment is not from the Public Service Commission and it is therefore fraudulent and illegal.
